Bid Fails To Break Filibuster

Little Hope Seen
To Squash Soon
Bitter Deadlock

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield made an unsuccessful bid today to break a filibuster against the administration's space communications bill by offering to send it to the Foreign Relations Committee for study.

His proposal was rejected, at least for the present, by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., leader of the liberal filibustering group.

Morse indicated he wanted to discuss the proposal further with Mansfield.

There appeared little immediate hope that the bitter deadlock over the communications satellite legislation would be broken soon, Morse told United Press International that he would agree to let the bill go to committee only if it were locked up there until after November elections.

Mansfield told newsmen he would not immediately order around the clock Senate sessions to break the filibuster but would keep the Senate in session until about 10 p.m. tonight in an effort to exhaust the talkathon.

The leadership indicated it was willing and ready to call the around-the-clock sessions if that was the only way to tumble the roadblock that is preventing consideration of the bill.

The object of all-night sessions would be to wear down the small band of Democratic liberals who are opposed to the measure. They claim that the bill's plan to set up a privately owned and government regulated space communications corporation would amount to a giveaway of public resources.

The current filibuster, part of which stalled the Senate in a 10-hour and 12-minute Saturday session, is aimed at a motion by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., to bring the bill up for action. Virtually unlimited debate could still follow on the bill itself and proposed amendments.

LA Brush Fire Now Controlled

GLENDAL (UPI)—A slow-moving fire which sent clouds of smoke billowing over the Los Angeles area was reported contained early today as firemen guarded against possible flareups.

The fire burned for about nine hours and blackened some 300 acres in the rugged terrain before being contained shortly after midnight. The expensive homes bordering the streets below the fire in the Verdugo Hills were never seriously threatened and no injuries were reported.

BY UNION OF 10,000

Pan Am Strike Scheduled Friday

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ten thousand members of the Transport Workers Union employed by Pan American World Airways will go on strike at midnight Friday, it was announced today.

The union said its 2,000 members employed by the airline at the government's Cape Canaveral missile base will not participate in the strike "in the national interest."

TWU President Michale J. Quill and Vice President James F. Horst, director of the union's Air Transport Division, charged that Pan American "has deliberately provoked this strike" by re-

Young Spa Net Stars Win in National Meet

ARCADIA (UPI) — Steve Rosen of Palm Springs and Dennis Law, of Arcadia, scored a surprise victory over the No. 1 18 and under boy's double team Sunday in the finals of the 14th annual National Junior Public Parks tennis championships.

The 6-4, 6-4 win over Bob Eisenberg, Beverly Hills, and John Yoemans, Los Angeles, was one of two upsets in the contest. Early, Sherrie Pruitt, of Pasadena, topped top-seeded Jean Inez, of Pacoima, to win the singles crown for girls' 16 and under, 6-3, 6-3.

In the singles finals for boys 18 and under, Joe Huey, Los Angeles, defeated Gary Grossman, Palm Springs, 6-2, 6-3, 6-1. The doubles finals for girls' 18 and under were taken by Carol Haase, Resida, and Penny Myrell, San Bernardino with a 5-7, 6-4, 7-5 win over Maria Swanson, Tulare, and Linda Cushing, Bakersfield.

Both the Palm Springs net stars reached the semi-finals in the boys' singles Friday. Rosen was defeated by Huey the singles champ, but Grossman defeated his opponent to advance to the finals staged Sunday.

With the troops occupying the main government buildings, the radio station and patrolling the streets, the Ben Bellis called it a welcome maneuver.

Ben Bella announced in Oran he would enter the city and install his even - man political bureau sometime this week.

Ex-Official of Union Charged By McClellan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John L. McClellan said today that a former union official solicited a payoff in connection with the strike which has delayed U.S. nuclear submarine construction.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee, made the statement in a short Senate speech. He requested that the subcommittee be allowed to meet and take testimony on the matter today.

However, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., blocked the necessary unanimous consent in a parliamentary skirmish resulting from the Senate filibuster against the administration's communications satellite bill.

McClellan named no names. But he said the subcommittee wanted to hold hearings on the "serious strike" in progress at the Groton, Conn., yard of the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp.

He noted that the yard is building nuclear submarines, Polaris missile types.

Management and union negotiators agreed Friday on settlement terms in the strike which had idled 8,500 workers. It was the third such settlement formula approved by union and management negotiators.

McClellan told the Senate the subcommittee has information indicating that the two previous settlements were "obstructed by a former president of a local." He said the official was expelled from the union but still wielded tremendous influence.

"We are advised that he has offered, for a sum of money and other considerations, to withdraw his opposition and permit this settlement go through," McClellan said.

The Senator said rank-and-file members of the unions involved will vote on the new settlement formula Tuesday night, election, he said, would cause "further delay in construction and production of these vital weapons."

Under these circumstances, said McClellan, the reported solicitation of a payoff "ought to be exposed or the rumor of it ought to be exploded."

McClellan said the Polaris submarine is "one of the vital links in the chain of national security" and production should not be halted "because somebody won't pay off somebody to get a strike settled."

The strike halted work on 11 nuclear submarines—seven of them of the missile-firing Polaris type. It began July 19 and involved a number of unions whose members are employed by the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics.

McClellan would not specify any details of his investigation until the hearings got underway.

One of the witnesses scheduled for questioning was Arthur J. Vars, ousted president of the Boilermakers Union at Electric Boat.

Vars has called the latest settlement pact "unacceptable."

U.S. Grain Shortage Uncovered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today investigators have uncovered shortages of more than one million bushels of government-owned corn and soybeans stored in commercial warehouses.

The shortages may grow. As of May 31, there were more than 1.6 billion bushels of corn and 77 million bushels of soybeans stored under either government ownership or as security for price support loans to farmers. There also were more than 1.2 billion bushels of wheat in storage.

The government is protected by a liability bond on all stored commodities.

The shortages were uncovered in Michigan, Ohio, Iowa, and Illinois. Court action has been taken to appoint receivers to take control of the short warehouses and issue restraining orders against further shipments of grain by the warehouses.

The Agriculture Department said other measured shortage cases were under investigation, but specific action had not been taken.

The department said "some-what more than normal instances of shortages" of government-owned grain were turned up during the recent heavy reduction in its commercially stored grain stocks.

The reduction resulted from the feed grain program, heavy exports, and heavy domestic consumption by livestock and poultry. More than 600 million bushels of corn were sold in recent weeks to liquidate certificates-in-kind under the 1961 feed grain program.

Weekend Crash Kills C.V. Girl

ANZA — A 17-year-old Coachella girl was killed near here Sunday, one of 12 persons killed in traffic accidents across southern California over the weekend.

Irene Elaine Ramirez, of 84-821 Via Cochille, Coachella, died in Hemet Valley District Hospital at 10:58 a.m. Sunday, approximately three and a half hours after she was thrown from a compact car which rolled over her, the CHP reported.

California Highway Patrol reported. Two other passengers in the car, bound for a San Diego outing, were admitted to Hemet Hospital with reported major injuries. The injured are Sandra A. Alford, 19, of 52-192 Shady Lane, and Alex G. Franco, 17, of 75-828 Comanche, both of Coachella. Ernest Gomez Franco, 19, Coachella, driver of the car, received minor injuries, the CHP reported.

The car, which apparently skidded out of control on the Anza Road near Highway 74, veered off the highway and plunged down an 80 foot embankment, CHP investigators said.

Throughout southern California, two pedestrians were killed when struck by automobiles, and nine other persons died in one two-car, and six one-car accidents.

Five CV Wrecks

In the Coachella Valley, five motor vehicle accidents marred the weekend, the Indio CHP office reported. A Casita Hospital spokesman, Indio, reported no major injuries resulted.

Howard W. Lane, 40, of South Plainfield, N. J., escaped with minor injury at 4:55 p.m. Sunday when his east - bound semi - trailer rig overturned on Highway 99 six-tenths of a mile east of Kubic Road, the CHP said. Lane told investigating officers that a gust of wind whipped his trailer, throwing the vehicle to the road shoulder.

Minor injuries resulted at 5:20 p.m. Saturday when two pickup trucks collided on Highway 99 near Kubic Road in the Thousand Palms area, the CHP reported.

Mrs. Ruth Elizabeth Long, 43, of Phoenix, Ariz., was treated and released from Casita Hospital after a light truck driven by her husband, William, collided with a pickup driven by Alonzo Norion Whitton, 67, of 72-949 Dutil Road, Thousand Palms, officers said. The CHP reported that Whitton apparently pulled onto the highway in front of the Long's eastbound vehicle.

try. Industrial salary samplings were in the Palm Springs and metropolitan Los Angeles areas, plus non-metropolitan sectors of the state, Kasmer said.

The Palm Springs City Council, which has ear-marked approximately $75,000 for possible salary adjustments during the year, is expected to receive the completed studies later this month for study and action. Alpert is now collecting pertinent payroll data on individual city employees here.

New York Stocks at Closing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks rambled ahead on fairly slow turnover for the fourth consecutive session today, featuring late strength in most major growth issues and pharmaceuticals.

Chemicals were the best group in the blue chips section, Union Carbide rising around 2 and Du Pont over a point. General Motors gained a large fraction in a firm motor section. Improvements in pivotal oils and steels were very small, but some domestic oils barreled ahead, especially Midwest.

Among the glamor issues IBM scored more than 8 along with Corning Glass, Polaroid and Xerox added over 1/2 and Beckman and Litton at least 4.

Festival of Red Youth Stoned

HELSINKI (UPI)—Mounted police Sunday night broke up a crowd of demonstrators estimated at 5,000 who tossed rocks at vehicles carrying delegates to the Communist-backed World Youth Festival.

Bus windows were shattered and store windows broken by the anti-Communist demonstrators in downtown Helsinki. It was the second incident of violence in as many nights connected with the conference.

Soviet newspapers charged that the United States and West Germany were behind the demonstrations and said the loyalty of anti-festival rioters had been purchased by the "Central Intelligence Agency and the State Department."

Several persons were reported injured. Police made some arrests. Exact figures were not immediately available.

Police stopped a crowd of several hundred youths from storming a park where festival slogans are displayed and which houses a Soviet cultural exhibit. The exhibit was attacked by demonstrators Saturday night.

Reliable sources said at least seven of the 500-member delegation from East Germany fled to Sweden Saturday night and asked for political asylum. There was no confirmation of the report.

About 10,000 delegates are attending the festival at Olympic Stadium.

Advance Predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission has predicted that nuclear power plants will be economically competitive with conventional electric plants by 1966 in some high-cost areas.

SERIOUSLY INJURED is one of the crewmen of the air sea rescue plane that landed at the Palm Springs Airport Saturday. A test recovery operation saw the P. S. Reserve Rescue Squadron go through their paces with synchronized efficiency. The big bird had allegedly come through a contaminated area in the practice maneuver. All of it, including the injury, was staged for practice. (Desert Sun Photo)

PS Rescue Squadron In Operation

In accurately simulated emergency conditions Saturday, the Palm Springs Reserve Rescue Squadron met an ailing SA 60, twin engine, air-sea rescue plane that had just come through a radiologically infested area.

Radio contact alerted the local squadron at the P.S. Airport that the troubled aircraft was limping in on one engine with injured aboard.

A teamwork operation involving the 47 men in the squadron, all specialists, bolstered by the cooperation of the Palm Springs Fire and Police Departments plus an ambulance from Wiefels Mortuary, handled the emergency with near perfect efficiency.

A decontamination crew washed down the plane; an injured crewman was removed by Wiefels' ambulance; and the plane was then towed to the service area for repair, refueling and reassignment. An intelligence officer de-briefed the pilot and instructions for flight continuance were issued.

Col. Stanley W. Martin and Lt. Col. Paul G. Payne supervised the emergency and mentioned that the rescue squadron, one of 232 similar operations across the country has room on its team for men with service backgrounds. It has its own operational quarters at the airport and is rapidly gaining in both facility and personnel strength.

Russia Boasts of Navy

LENINGRAD (UPI) — The Soviet Union boasted of a string of naval achievements ranging from Polar-type submarines to torpedoes with nuclear warheads during annual Navy Day celebrations here Sunday.

The annual naval review here included only about 15 ships, less than half the number put on display a year ago.

The largest was the cruiser Kirov, built after World War II.

BUT ONLY A SNIFF

Ike Tries Oldest Rum

STOCKHOLM (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, with a beaming smile, took a sniff today of what is claimed to be the oldest rum in the world but declined to sample it.

"It's amazing," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower, 71, was aboard the 334-year-old warship Vasa, which sank with all hands at the start of her maiden voyage Aug. 10, 1628. When the ship was discovered in the mud in 1956, a rum bottle was found intact.

Eisenhower found it of particular interest during his one-hour visit to the recently raised warship, now a floating museum.

The touring ex-president was so eager to see the Vasa he turned up almost half an hour early with U. S. Ambassador J. Graham Parsons.

Eisenhower, who left his wife and two grandchildren behind in town, was shown around the museum by Vasa's discoverer, engineer Anders Franzen.

Continually wiping his glasses in the damp, floating museum, the ex-president examined the old pumps and looked at the ship's sculptures.

Baker spent Tuesday in 29 Palms studying the methods codes and manuals used by the local fire department, Anderson said.

Freeze Picnic Lunch

Summertime is sandwich time, of course. And how easy sandwich serving is when you let your freezer do the job for you. Use your freezer for storing sandwiches to have instant lunches and picnics literally at the tips of your fingers.

You'll be surprised at the number of sandwich ingredients that freeze marvelously, and even many that do not can be easily added when the sandwiches come out of the freezer. Going right from the freezer into the picnic basket, the sandwiches will thaw on the way and be fresh and ready to eat when the time arrives.

If you're party planning, too, you'll be delighted that you prepared little sandwiches ahead of time to freeze and then thaw in time to serve.

Freeze Well

Among the sandwich ingredients that freeze very well are hard-cooked egg-yolk, cooked or canned chicken, turkey or seafood, cooked or canned meats and fried beef. Cheese, cheese spread, and peanut butter fillings will freeze also.

But there are others that do not freeze so well, such as cooked egg white, which becomes tough and rubbery when frozen. Tomatoes, cucumber, lettuce, radishes, green pepper, carrots, and other raw vegetables lose their crispness and change flavor in the freezing process. Add these ingredients to thawed sandwiches just before serving. To tuck into the picnic basket, wrap separately, or place in covered paper cups.

Spread bread or rolls (all types freeze well) with butter, margarine, dairy sour cream or cream cheese; avoid mayonnaise or salad dressings as spreads because they separate when frozen and soak into the bread. Use them sparingly as binders for salad-type fillings as well. Spread the butter or other spreads to the edges of the bread. This will prevent the fillings from soaking into the bread while the sandwiches freeze and thaw.

Wrap Carefully

Wrap each sandwich individually, according to how long you plan to freeze them. Use a double wrap of waxed paper or transparent wrap, carefully sealed, for sandwiches to be kept for a week or less. For longer periods in the freezer, use waxed or transparent wrap and then wrap each in moisture-vapor-proof material such as aluminum foil or plastic film. Sandwiches wrapped in this manner will keep from 2 to 3 weeks. Be sure to close each wrapping securely, and then label the sandwich including date. Place sandwiches in the freezer away from the bottom and sides to avoid formation of ice crystals on the packages.

Most sandwiches will thaw in about two hours after being removed from the freezer, so, you can pack the picnic basket right from the freezer. If you're eating at home, remove the sandwiches from the freezer at least two hours before mealtime.

Here is the recipe for an exceptionally good "freezable" sandwich.

Crunchy Porkwich

4 ounces cooked pork (about 1 1/3 cups ground)
2 tablespoons toasted almonds
1/2 cup applesauce.
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon salt
8 slices enriched bread
Butter or margarine, softened
Lettuce leaves

ALTHOUGH MRS. COSTI'S 'company' recipe calls for unshaped hamburgers, she often has to make the more conventional patties as extra last-minute guests arrive.

HER 'COMPANY' RECIPE

Mrs. Rick Costi Finds She Needs 'Expandable' Menus

By LEE CHRISTOPHER

It was easy for Mrs. Rick Costi to come up with the recipe for a sandwich that she would serve "company" during August in celebration of National Sandwich Month.

It was no problem at all, for she is used to having her husband (he is branch manager of Welch's Industrial Laundry) call up gaily (and quizzically) at the last minute to say, "Drexel, I'm bringing home some people (unspecified number) for dinner." Or — after a fishing expedition — "We'll all be home for something to eat. We're starved!"

Unexpected company at meal-times leaves her calm and unruffled — although, she says, "I'm glad I have a huge freezer." She keeps on tap in her head (she seldom needs the printed word) a file of "expandable" recipes to which she has added her own personal touch of imagination for superb flavor. And when guests arrive at the Costis' charming new Rancho Mirage home on 71-341 Biskra Road, they find a soft-spoken, tall, and slender blonde ready to serve a delectable dinner that she has whipped up with no trouble at all — "for," as she says, "we are great for company."

Popular Pair

People are "great" for the Costis, too; his business associates this year elected Rick president of the Optimists, and Drexel plays an important role in the doing of the Opti-Mrs. She says that although her husband, a native-born California from Long Beach, is of Italian descent, he has a thoroughly Americanized taste, taking or leaving spaghetti, and regarding zucchini with a jaundiced eye.

But he is enthusiastic about his wife's cooking. So are their four youngsters. — Ron, 14, a student at Palm Springs High School; and Susan, 11, Lisa, 7, and Jana, 6, who go to the Cathedral City school.

"With four children as a basis, and all the friends they bring home for food at all hours, I've had to become an 'easy' cook," Mrs. Costi points out. "I even like it, and if two or three of the youngsters are away, I find I over-buy and cook much too much."

Fresh peas go well with many herbs, including basil, chives, dill, ginger, marjoram, mint, nutmeg, oregano, poppy seed, rosemary, savory, tarragon, or thyme.

A Perennial Favorite Has New Glamour

In honor of the sandwich—that popular masterpiece enjoyed 100-million strong every day in America—August has been proclaimed National Sandwich Month. And no wonder—since nothing beats the sandwich for economy, nutritional value, and downright good eating. And nothing equals it as a quick, cool, easy-to-prepare mainstay for a desert summertime meal. Serve with your sandwiches a crisp fruit or vegetable salad, a light tart dessert, and gallons of iced something-or-other, and even the humidity doesn't seem so important.

'Your Sandwich, Sir'

The sandwich has come a long way since an 18th Century English nobleman, John Montague, the fourth Earl of Sandwich, called for his dinner between two slices of bread while deeply engrossed at the gambling table. Another story has it that the sandwich idea was not new even at that time. The earl, it holds, really "invented" the sandwich loaf—having his loaves of bread baked in deeper pans than had been used before so that only the top was crusty, and the interior much softer.

Whatever the earl did about it, sandwiches are no longer two pieces of bread with a filling. They have reached the level of a culinary art, and one food firm even sponsors a national sandwich contest. With a little imagination, a sandwich can become a meal's main dish—a delight not only during the coming August and National Sandwich Month, but also throughout the year.

Souffled Sandwich

Take, for instance, this Ham 'n' Cheese Souffle Sandwich. It's glamorous enough for guest entertaining—light, yet hearty enough for the most voracious appetites.

The fluffy texture, a ham salad filling sparked with apples and celery, and meltly smooth cheese make it distinctively delicious. To make the "souffle," pour a custardy blend of cream of celery soup and well-beaten eggs over the filled sandwiches; as the sandwiches bake in the casserole, the bread and custard combine to give a puffy, feather-light texture. Serve piping hot right in the

Here's a Patio Party Idea

Even in the desert summertime, a pot of Buckaroo Beans—made with a Western flavor from Idaho's dappled beans known as Pinto—will be received enthusiastically at either a family picnic or a Saturday night patio party. Served with crisps, cold salads, buttered cornbread, gallons of iced tea and a fruit sherbet for dessert, Buckaroo Beans will make a wonderfully zesty meal.

Or if you're going on a camping trip or cookout, try slow-simmering them over glowing coals.

Buckaroo Beans

2 cups Idaho dry Pinto Beans

6 cups cold water
1 large or 2 medium onions, thick-sliced or chopped
2 fat cloves garlic, minced
1 small bayleaf, left whole
1/2 pound smoked ham, slab bacon or salt pork
Add washed beans to the water, allow to soak overnight in a heavy kettle. Or, in the morning, boil beans 2 minutes in the water. Remove from heat, cover, soak 1 hour. Add other ingredients. Simmer about 2 hours. Smoked ham should be cut in 1/2 inch cubes. Slab bacon or salt pork (salt washed off) should be sliced twice each way not quite to rind. Bring to a boiling point rapidly. Reduce heat to slow simmer. Cover tightly. Cook 1 1/2 hours. Then add:
2 cups canned tomatoes
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 teaspoons chili powder
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon oregano or 1/4 teaspoon ground cumin salt if needed
Rapidly bring to boiling point. Reduce to slow-simmer. Taste for salt. Cover. Simmer about 2 hours. There should be enough liquid left on the beans to resemble a medium-thick gravy. If cooked at this slow-simmer stage, the beans will not stick to the pot.

Try Navarra Style Eggs

Eggs—those wonderful summer standbys—are used in this tempting casserole:

EGGS, NAVARRA STYLE

1 tablespoon butter
3 medium-sized tomatoes, peeled and chopped
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Salt and pepper
8 eggs
1/4 pound longaniza sausage
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan or Romano cheese

Generously butter a shallow baking dish. Mix tomatoes with parsley, salt and pepper and put a layer of them at the bottom of the dish. Break eggs on top and place rounds of longaniza sausage around the yolks. Sprinkle with grated cheese and bake at 375 degrees until eggs are set. Serves 4 or 8.

"WELL, BE SEEIN' YA, DEWEY. HERE COMES MY HORSE NOW!"

British School Horror Told by Hayley Mills

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Hayley Mills, 16-year-old star of Walt Disney movies, returned to Hollywood from her native England this week to report the horrors of segregated British schools.
The blue-eyed youngster is doing all she can (which isn't much) to press for integration in all English classrooms.
It's not racial discrimination that disturbs the button-nosed cutie. The English are blindly prejudiced about integrating teen-aged boys and girls.
"Almost all our schools are either for boys or girls," Hayley said with a pretty frown. "It's quite dreadful, really. Because there are so few mixed classes girls are able to meet boys only on holidays and weekends."
"You have a much nicer arrangement over here. Our segregation makes boys and girls terribly shy in their teens while American teen-agers are more sophisticated."
Wants More Say
"Unchaperoned dating and independence among young people move more slowly at home. But we are growing in importance, and I'm all for it. We should be given more say."
"The best thing would be to integrate our schools, mixing boys and girls."
Hayley transferred from English schools to a Swiss institution of learning, but to no avail. Her Alpine alma mater was a girls' boarding school.
"I'm 16 and therefore no longer required to attend school," Hayley concluded with a smile. "That's the custom in England, and I imagine one that American teen-agers would like to see adopted here."

Dates Few
Compared to many American 16-year-olds, Hayley is pleasantly naive. But she more than compensates for this with beautiful manners and a command of the English language that is truly astonishing.
Still, she has never been on an unchaperoned date, except for a couple of trips to the theater in New York City.
"It isn't common to find girls my age going out on dates in England," she explained. "That doesn't worry us terribly. I suppose, but teen-agers are a suppressed group in England."
Fortunately, Hayley loses her suppressions in movies, the latest of which is "Summer Magic" for Disney. Her "Parent Trap" starrer was the most successful picture in Uncle Walt's history.
"Slowly, we English teen-agers are catching up with Americans," she went on. "We certainly think about the same things — boys, clothes, records and films."
"But somehow when I meet an American girl my age she seems to be older than I am. It makes me wish I were more sophisticated and competent. Perhaps all that will change before I am completely out of my teens."

Can Congressman Saund Serve?

When Democratic party leaders in Palm Springs meet tonight, it is to be hoped they will put the problem of Congressman Saund's physical condition first on the agenda. To ask for a definitive answer to the question as to whether he is able to serve now and if elected is apparently to wish for the moon.

Since May 1, when Saund was stricken on a plane out of Los Angeles, information and frankness on his condition has been denied to his fellow party members as well as to the opposition party and the public at large.

There is ample precedent for news releases to satisfy the public concern. Presidents Wilson, Roosevelt, Eisenhower and Kennedy have all found it right and proper to report on their illnesses to the public they served.

But to report, as has Saund, that he suffered a "coronary occlusion" and is "progressing satisfactorily" is something less than frank. Coronary occlusion is a stroke as commonly understood and as specifically defined by competent local doctors. It can be grave or it can be minor, as was his previous stroke. It can seriously impair or curtail completely his ability to serve the constituents of his district. Have they and will they have representation through Congressman Saund?

They are entitled to an answer. At present, this district knows only for sure that Saund's name, unless he should die before September 27, will appear on the November 6 ballot as the official nominee of the Democratic party in Riverside and Imperial counties. This is despite the fact that he was stricken over a month before the June 5 primary.

Should he then, before November be adjudged unable to serve, a Democratic write-in is possible but so impractical as to be beyond consideration.

Meanwhile Democratic party stalwarts are without an effective standard bearer and without vital knowledge on the condition of their nominal leader. They are bewildered and, understandably, floundering.

They're running a bit scared, too, for this time out they face a young, vigorous, technically qualified Republican candidate, Pat Martin. Behind him they see an aggressive party organization which apparently is going to give this campaign all it has, with no thought of walking in by default. They believe they can lick a well Saund, and they might just do that.

Be that as it may, it's high time for a definitive report on the health of our congressman. The public and workers of both parties are entitled to it. They pay the freight. They do the political work. Their needs are entitled to able representation in Washington.

It's been three months now. How about an answer?

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

It doesn't matter what the score, Or how you played the game, The Russians have it all worked out, It's all in what you claim.

Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, has rewritten the rules. It has come up with something thousands have been seeking for years — an unbeatable system. You can't lose. MANY NOTABLE American sports figures have produced quotable quips about winning and losing and sportsmanship. The late Grantland Rice is famous for his verse on "moral victories."

The one that says it doesn't matter whether you won or lost, it's how you played the game that counts.

Leo, the Lip, Durocher, who is still with us, took the other side. He says the score does matter and that "nice guys don't win."

IZVESTIA agrees that the score doesn't matter. It's just how you report the game.

On a recent weekend Soviet men met United States men in one dual track meet, the women of the two countries in another. By pre-meet stipulation, they were to be two separate events. It would up in what we call in baseball, a split.

THE U.S. MEN won their meet, the Soviet women that one. One for each side.

Not so, says Izvestia. The women's margin was larger, adding up to a glorious victory for their side. What's a pre-meet agreement?

But there was a cord of caution. Izvestia warned the Russians not to overly gloat. "The improvement (of our men) was insignificant."

SOMEHOW, there may be some connection between the results of the women's meet and another item coming out of Moscow.

This one was a fashion note. Moscow's fashion designers have decreed, this dispatch set forth, that women's skirts will be longer this season.

Not to quibble over words — Russian women will show less leg than is stylish in the decadent West.

JUST WHY, the editor didn't explain. Whether the lack of pleasing curves got on Khrushchev's nerves or whether he wanted the men to keep their minds on getting to the moon first and not be distracted like the men in the West.

It could be, however, that the success of Soviet womankind in athletic competition has something to do with it.

YOU'VE SEEN these pictures on the sports pages as our men get ready for the legalized mayhem of the gridiron. They're plentiful as the season nears.

When you view the Rams, for instance, you note that every burly candidate for football fame has legs which would make a pool table look like a spinet. That's what violent exercise does for you. Colloquially known as piano legs.

MAYBE that's why women's skirts in Russia will be more demure. They may have something to hide.

Shorter skirts in the West? Two more Freedoms.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN:

Dear Abby . . .

DEAR ABBY: My wife invited her whole family out to the house for the Fourth of July when she knew I had been having a lot of trouble with a bad back. I didn't even know anyone was coming until three car-loads of them pulled into our driveway. I was in bed at the time and in such agony I could hardly stand up straight. So my wife comes in and asks me if I would mind barbecuing hotdogs for 42 people! I pulled myself out of bed and barbecued, but it almost killed me. I was so mad I didn't speak to her for a week. She still can't see where she did anything wrong. Can you explain it to her, woman to woman?

MISHUGA

DEAR MISH: Your wife was very inconsiderate to have invited guests, knowing your condition. But if you left a sick bed and in agony barbecued hotdogs for 42 people, you must have been delirious. Chew her out and get it over with.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is a real nut on safety belts. Since he put them in his car I can't sit close to him any more. The minute we get into his car he straps himself in, and tells me to do the same. Abby, this means I am strapped in near the door — just miles from him. I don't like it. Any suggestions?

TOO SAFE

DEAR TOO: You can't be "too safe." Safety belts are for YOUR protection as well as his. Hang onto him—but not while he's driving.

DEAR ABBY: The chapter "For Husbands Only" in your book DEAR ABBY ON MARRIAGE should be printed on the front page of every newspaper in the country. I've never read anything so simple and true and beautiful in all my life. I cry every time I read it. I love you for writing it.

HELEN FROM CHANDLER'S

DEAR HELEN: And thank you for your lovely letter. Send me your full name and address and I'll send you an autographed copy of my book.

DEAR ABBY: Our 20-year-old daughter is very serious about a 22-year-old boy. The boy has a good character and we approve of him in every way except one. He is constantly calling our daughter, "knucklehead, idiot, birdbrain and numbskull." I suppose he is only teasing her but it rubs me the wrong way. I feel if they got married it would continue and maybe get worse. He treats her very well and seems to be very considerate of her feelings in all other ways. What is your opinion?

CONCERNED MOTHER

DEAR CONCERNED: If it doesn't bother your daughter, don't let it bother you. Better this way than to have him call her "darling, sweetheart and honey," and mistreat her.

DEAR ABBY: Is it proper for a mother to open the letters her 17-year-old daughter receives from her fiancé in the service? I know many servicemen who have the same problem.

"A LONG WAY FROM HOME"

DEAR LONG WAY: ALL mail is the private property of the person to whom it is addressed —and the government postal authorities will back me up on this. If, after the letter is received, the daughter wishes to share it with her mother, that's her business, but no one has the right to open another's mail.

CONFIDENTIAL TO GETTING MARRIED: The ceremony will be over in an hour, but the hurt could last a lifetime. Ask your sister to be your maid-of-honor.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SID: You have a "gelt" complex. Forget your money and perhaps every one else will.

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

For Abby's booklet "How To Have A Lovely Wedding" send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills Calif.

Carrot Worship Cannot Be Understood by Scientists

NEW YORK (UPI) — Nutrition carrot juice is probably the most scientists will never understand useless, and it should be considered the worship of the carrot by food demned," the Abrahamsens re-faddists. To them it is not a very marked. But they granted it was attractive vegetable aesthetically, harmless.

Delays Corrective Measures When people with carrot-yellowed skin abstain from carrots

And it has a very definite draw-back. Eat enough carrots — or normal color. The Abrahamsens drink enough carrot juice — as a wanted carrot-addiction "con-regular thing, and your skin will demned" because it delays the turn a carrot-like yellow. The application of workable corrective word for it is, hypercarotenemia, measures to visual defects.

The factual basis for the superstition that carrots are "eye food" is that the carrot is rich in carotene, which is a pigment manufactured by a number of plants. The plants use it to color their fruits. The tomato is another vegetable which owes its color to carotene.

Chemically carotene is several steps along the path toward vitamin A. In human body chemistry carotene is pushed the rest of the way into that vitamin which among other tasks, maintains the sharpness of vision. But happily for the carrot worshippers, the conversion rate is a very slow one and this prevents vitamin A intoxication and consequent sickness.

Everyone needs vitamin A in his diet, of course, but the needed amount is quite small and it is abundantly present in most vegetables (and not only in the carrot and tomato but also in milk.

Express Arrangement

Dr. Ira A. Abrahamsen and his son Dr. Ira A., Jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio, are the newest to express amazement at the carrot craze, in a medical science organ of the American Medical Association. They are eye doctors and they were examining a child with crossed eyes.

The mother watched, holding a nine-month-old baby. They could not help noticing the babe's yellowish skin, and one of them asked, how much carrot juice are you giving that infant?

A pint a day, the mother replied, and she's been getting it since she was a month old! Naturally the next medical question was, what's the idea? To prevent her second child from having crossed eyes like her first, the mother said.

Most Useless Therapy

In one day the Abrahamsens had two animated yellow skins walk into their office. One was a 74-year-old woman, and to the opening question, how much carrot juice have you been drinking? She replied, one and a half pints a day for two years.

The other was a 50-year-old man. He was proud of his devoted wife. Every day for a year and a half she had ground up enough carrots to make two quarts of juice for him to drink.

In both cases the idea was to improve vision. But in both cases vision had been impaired by cataracts and it improved when the cataracts were removed. Needless to say, carrots do nothing for cataracts.

"Although not the most expensive form of therapy, drinking

"They're about the size of golf balls on my trees," she replied when a neighbor called up to ask about the apples. The neighbor had no trees of his own, so there were other things, too, that he probably didn't know, and didn't even ask about, not having sufficient experience to inspire further curiosity.

For example, why grow apples when you can buy them at the supermarket? He would not ask that because he would suppose that the answer would have something to do with price, or freshness, size or sweetness.

But there will always be people who will always grow apples for other reasons, one reason being to pick them themselves.

It may not be the most efficient way to get apples into a pie. But there is no more lasting way to snare a sunset than in the criss-cross of apple boughs in an October afternoon. There is no more direct way to the very center of nowness in a July forenoon than the side-to-side motion of a comfortably filled hammock sailing under a green galaxy of little worlds to wait for.

This is an approach to ultimate matters that Thoreau well understood; he complained of the farmer who showed him a fine big apple but spoiled the effect by rubbing the bloom off it.

Some people grow apples for the blue mist in which late summer nights wrap them, and agree with Thoreau that this is too precious to mar. Others grow them for the taste of remembered mornings that gives to the home-grown fruit some extra tang not yet discovered by Automated Apples Inc.

And some let other people grow them and just call up to ask how the apples are getting on, hardly aware of the scope of the subject they have opened up.

HOLMES ALEXANDER:

The Farewell of One Senator

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Tall and fit at 67, urbane, experienced and industrious, Senator Prescott Bush is retiring from the Senate this year at a time when his usefulness is at its peak, and the reason is — he doesn't want to slack off during a third term which would mostly be served while in his seventies. "The spiritual reward of being a Senator is the most satisfying that a man can have," says Bush. "I have always liked the public service of politics rather than its partisanship and I long believed that the Senate would be the most attractive place to serve. It was even better than I thought it would be."

Pleasant Life

Not many men have had as pleasant, successful and stimulating a life as Bush has lived, or have better deserved the rewards. In April of 1917, his senior year, he left Yale, where he had played three years of Varsity baseball and majored in history, because he wanted combat service. As an artillery captain, he got it in the Meuse-Argonne offensive, and he got his diploma honoris causa. At the 1919 Commencement, he was recruited for a job in a St. Louis hardware firm at $100 a month where he stayed three years and married. He moved to Columbus, Ohio, and experienced a business failure, went to a rubber flooring firm in Milton, Mass., to the U.S. Rubber Corp. as manager of the flooring department, then joined W. A. Harriman and Company, the banking house, which became Brown Brothers Harriman, and in 1931 he became a partner, and still is.

Hard Worker

The early years as hardware salesman, the failure and the comeback, affected him profoundly in making him a hard worker and fond of people. He moved to Greenwich where in 1933, he was elected to the Representative Town Meeting, the most democratic form of American government, with one member for every 100 voters. He became Moderator in 1935 and served as such for 17 years until moving to the U.S. Senate in the 1932 election.

But the latter move did not come easily. He experienced the same formula of failure-and-comeback. First he lost to a Democrat, William Benton, by 1,100 votes. Then he lost to a Republican, William Purtell, in the State nominating convention.

Toughness Key

He found the Senate to be as able a body of men and women as he ever encountered. Toughness, he says, is the key quality of Senators, for it takes that trait to win and to survive.

"Businessmen who criticize us don't know the amount of work we put in, and many of our critics couldn't do as well. They're too tender."

The Washington workload alone is a full occupation. Bush is on three backbreaking committees—Armed Services, Banking and Currency and Joint Economic. His subcommittee on stockpiling has met almost daily for three months, and he has another special committee on problems of the Aging. Two hundred letters a day, many requiring researched answers, come into his office. Demands in the State are heaped on top of all this. During one weekend this spring he made nine speeches back home. He has had one two-week vacation in 10 years.

Asked For It

"But I asked for all this, and I'm glad I did," he says. "Don't get the idea I'm complaining. Rewards far offset the difficulties."

Bush has little patience with critics who call the Constitution an 18th Century system for an agrarian society, and still less with those who say the political economy has become so complex that it should be run by experts and technicians. He does feel that the Founding Fathers intended the Senate to be a body of "legislative review," and that the Upper Chamber should originate less rather than more legislation. But the Congressional method is sound. It serves, as this session has proved, to restrain an Administration which tends to overreach its authorities. Experts are apt to be theoreticians, and are out of touch with the people.

"Here in Congress we know what the people want. And this is their country."

A statesman out of the top drawer is Prescott Bush.

Letters to The Editor

The Editor
Desert Sun
Sir,

Last March I moved from North Hollywood to Palm Springs. Since that time, I have followed your Editorial Section with interest. I want to especially thank you for your very fine article "Freedom OF or Freedom FROM" that appeared July 10. I hope you will continue to print Holmes Alexander's articles. They are all worth reading, believe me. Also, I enjoy your "Other Editors" Section.

I am enclosing a very fine article entitled "I am a Sick American." This was sent in by a man from Santa Barbara. I hope you will read it. Also, I want to commend you for headlining the more worthwhile incidents instead of scandal.

Thank you for a very fine newspaper.

Mrs. Jean Boswell
Palm Springs, Calif.

FESTIVE feelings are all stirred up in Palm Desert over the fifth annual Fun Fiesta, to be staged by Rotarians Aug. 9 in the cool of Pinyon Crest. The annual summer fun fest will bring Rotarians, wives, and

Survivors Recount Horror Of Baseball Train Wreck

EDITOR'S NOTE: Last Saturday night a nine-car Pennsylvania Railroad "Baseball Special" plunged into the Susquehanna River killing 19 persons and injuring at least 120 others. Following is a detailed report of the tragedy as told by witnesses, victims and rescuers.

By LLOYD R. ROCHELLE AND MARTIN J. SIKORA

STEELETON, Pa. (UPI) — The nine-car "Baseball Special" pulled out of the Pennsylvania Railroad station at Harrisburg at 5:02 p.m. Saturday. It was two minutes behind schedule.

Aboard were baseball fans — parents and children, including some Little Leaguers. The talk was of batting averages and pitchers; of Clemente and Skinner, Gonzalez and Groat.

Kuchel Plans Legislation On Tax Deal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif., plans to introduce this week legislation to exempt from federal income taxes money paid to Japanese-Americans placed in relocation camps during World War II.

Kuchel said Saturday the Internal Revenue Service added "insult to injury" by ruling that compensation claims for property losses by the Nisei were subject to income tax.

"I deny that Congress ever intended such a travesty," said Kuchel. "The awards represent but a fraction of the loss."

"Morally, the problem is the other way around. These people ought to be permitted to take a loss on their tax returns," Kuchel said.

While his bill is pending, Kuchel said he also will urge the IRS to reconsider its ruling.

He noted that most of the 110,000 Nisei sent to the camps were loyal Americans.

Police Cars, Too, Involved In Accidents

Even police cars get involved in traffic accidents once in a while, as reflected when Officer L. J. Bertolini, driving one of the city patrol cars had a mishap over the weekend.

Both Bertolini and Charles Malton the driver of the other car, a 1957 Mercury, received minor injuries. The vehicles also sustained light damage in the accident that took place at Andreas and Palm Canyon Drive.

Long Sleep of Husband Scares

A scare came to Mrs. Peggy Edwards of 352 Glen Circle Drive when she found herself unable to awaken her husband who had been asleep for twelve hours.

A fire station rescue unit equipped with resuscitator and an ambulance from Palm Springs Mortuary responded to the call. Mr. Edwards was taken to Desert Hospital, treated and released.

Brand of 'Turncoat' Lasts Long

By NORMAN KEMPSTER

OLYMPIA, Wash. (UPI) — How long does it take a man to live down the charge that he betrayed his country?

For Otto G. Bell, 31, it was about 10 years.

Bell was one of several soldiers who were dishonorably discharged from the Army after being accused of collaborating with the Chinese Communists in a Korean prisoner of war camp.

For years, Bell said, he was shackled to the brand "turncoat." But during the past year or so things have improved for Bell, his wife, Jewell, and their four children.

Bell said he had encountered "no prejudice whatever" in recent months. Just one year ago he had said he would "rather hang" than continue life branded as a turncoat.

He said he makes his living doing odd jobs but he added, "when there is work to be found, I'll find it."

Bell has built a wooden house on some land he purchased in a rural district east of here.

"There's still a lot to be done," he said motioning to the unpainted walls and cluttered interior. "But I'm getting there."

Bell remained in Red China for 18 months after the end of the Korean War. But he steadfastly denies that he was a traitor.

He said he hoped that his case would be brought to court eventually so that he would get the chance to clear his name.

The U. S. Supreme Court ruled that Bell, and others who remained with the Communists, could not be tried by courts martial on collaboration charges because the Army lost jurisdiction when it discharged them.

In another case, the Supreme Court ruled that Bell was entitled to $1,455 prisoner-of-war pay. That was more than a year ago, but he said he still has not received the money.

"The lawyer says I'll get the money sometime," he said, "but I haven't seen it yet."

Bell is a native of Mississippi, but said he has decided to make Washington his home.

By many standards, Bell still is far from successful. But he feels that he is on the way up.

"I was drawing relief for a while," he said, "but I don't need it now."

'Very Indefinite' Hospital Term For Sir Winston

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill, 87, is "getting on nicely" but prospects of moving him from the hospital at present are "very indefinite," his wife said Sunday.

Lady Churchill said the former prime minister, recuperating from a broken thigh bone, was visited Sunday by Lord Privy Seal Edward Heath at Middlesex Hospital.

Churchill broke the bone June 28 in a fall in his hotel suite at the start of a vacation in Monte Carlo.

L.A. Dodgers Sweep Giants Series

WILLIE DAVIS, of the Los Angeles Dodgers, dives back to 2nd base safe after teammate Tom Davis was out on a pop-foul to Giants 1st baseman Orlando Cepeda. Cepeda fired the ball (arrow) to Jose Pagan, but Davis got in safely. The Giants were whipped by the Dodgers, 11-1, to give Los Angeles a four game lead in the National League. (UPI Telephoto)

Clobber Bay Area Team, 11-1

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants were in agreement today on one point—the National League race has not yet been settled.

Dark led his beaten Giants northward to rest during the all-star game break with the pointed reminder that the two clubs still have seven more games to play.

And Alston continued to worry about his pitching despite excellent performances by his hurlers during the three-game sweep against the Giants which drew a Chavez Ravine record three-day total of 157,115 paid attendance.

The Dodgers climaxed the series Sunday with an 11-1 victory that gave them a four-game National League lead. It was the biggest win of the series after two-run victories in the two previous games.

And it solidified Don Drysdale's position as the league's leading pitcher with nine straight wins and a 19-4 record. But big Don's job was made easy by the work of his teammates at the plate.

The batting hero of the series was Frank Howard, who homered in each game and drove in 12 runs in the three encounters, topped by Sunday's effort in which he batted in five runs on five hits.

Average Up To .321.

Howard now has driven in 52 runs in 37 games since he returned to the starting lineup June 19 and he raised his batting average to .321. But Alston drew the most pleasure from the big outfielder's two hits off San Francisco reliever Stu Miller, including his homer.

"The fact that Howard was able to get two hits off Miller indicates to me he finally has learned to wait for his pitches," Alston said. "But don't give all the credit to the hitters. We got good pitching, too."

Dark agreed with Alston on the importance of a mound staff by saying, "Pitching is baseball. Without it you are hurt. We made mistakes against Howard and they hurt us."

The Giants used 13 pitchers in the three games without gaining a win. Starter Billy O'Dell took Sunday's loss although he worked less than a full inning. But he gave up six runs and that was enough to let the Dodgers coast home. Five Giant pitchers gave up 16 hits.

Mays Prevents Shutout

About the only satisfaction the Giants could draw from the final game was provided by Willie Mays' 32nd homer which kept Drysdale from recording a shutout. Mays had gone one for 11 prior to his seventh inning homer. Orlando Cepeda had three singles in four times at bat but none of them came with men on base.

Howard got the Dodgers off to a quick start by driving in two runs in the first inning, enough for a winning margin. And Tommy Davis had three hits on five times at bat to stretch his batting streak to 11 games.

Maury Wills stole his 51st base in the eighth inning to post the best National League mark in thefts since Max Carey of the Pittsburgh Pirates stole 51 bases in 1923.

While the Giants and Dodgers rested awaiting the resumption of National League play Wednesday, four players from each club were in Chicago today for the second all-star game. For the Dodgers, the players were pitcher Johnny Podres, who replaced Drysdale because the big hurler worked Sunday, Wills, catcher John Roseboro and Tommy Davis. The Giants contingent was composed of Mays, Jim Davenport, Felipe Alou remained behind because of a bruised instep which he was to have X-rayed today at San Francisco.

Angels Split Twin Bill

DETROIT (UPI)—Even in their finest moments this season the Los Angeles Angels kept insisting they needed Army inductee George Thomas. Now, in their time of troubles, it isn't hard to see why.

With the Angels on a three-game losing streak Sunday after dropping the opener of a double-header to the Detroit Tigers, 7-6, manager Bill Rigney inserted Thomas into the lineup. He had joined the team a day earlier after being released from the army.

Wham. George smashed a home run—as did four other Angels—and Los Angeles got a split for the afternoon with a 12-8 victory in the second game.

Even though the Angels dropped three in succession to the Tigers here—starting a 16-game road trip off the worst way—they've gained a little added spark with the addition of Thomas.

And the split kept Los Angeles in second place behind New York, five games behind the Yankees and a half-game in front of third-place Minnesota.

Los Angeles is idle today, because of the all-star game at Wrigley Field in Chicago, and will resume play on its current trip Wednesday at Cleveland.

Steve Bilko, Leon Wagner, Felix Torres and even H.I. Albie Pearson slammed homers for the Angels in addition to Thomas. Wagner's, his 28th of the season, was a pinchhit blow that brought Los Angeles from behind in the eighth inning.

And the addition of George Thomas to the Angels' potent line-up again will give individuals a chance to refer euphorically to the Los Angeles Thomas as T.N.T.

Lee, by the way, did his part in the first game with a homer and double and three runs batted in. He also went 2 for 5 in the second game.

Wagner, despite slamming No. 28, remained two behind Detroit's Norm Cash, who crashed No. 30 in the fifth inning of the nightcap. It cleared the rightfield roof—the second time in three days he had done this—and traveled an estimated 525 feet.

Al Kaline's two-run double off the left field screen in the sixth provided the winning margin for the Tigers in the first game. It gave Detroit a 7-4 lead and was enough to overcome a two-run Angel outburst in the eighth.

LA Track Team Tour Europe

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Members of the Los Angeles Track Club today began a month-long European tour during which they hope to set a number of world distance running records.

This was the first time a club team had been given permission for such a tour by the Amateur Athletic Union. It also marked the first time the AAU did not appoint its own coach and manager.

Management chores were being handled by Dick Bank, club president, and the coaching was being done by coach Mihaly Igloi. The team left Los Angeles Sunday by plane.

Competition was scheduled for England, Norway, France, Finland and Sweden.

LA Rams Start 2-A-Day Drills

ORANGE, Calif. (UPI) — The Los Angeles Rams began two-a-day drills today in preparation for their Aug. 11 battle with Washington at the Coliseum.

Coach, Bob Waterfield said he planned to study films of the first full-scale scrimmage Saturday before paring the roster.

He expressed more pleasure over the proficiency of the defense than the offense although he said the team reached "normal" expectations in the 53-minute scrimmage.

DODGERS RECALL RICHERT

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Left-hander Pete Richert has been recalled from Omaha by the Los Angeles Dodgers to take up some of the slack created by the finger injury to star southpaw Sandy Koufax. The Dodgers then sent Joe Moeller to their American Association farm on waivers.

SWEDEN TAKES FINAL

BAASTAD, Sweden (UPI) — Sweden won the final two singles matches Sunday to upset Italy, 4-1, and capture the European Zone final of the Davis Cup competition for the first time since 1954.

Jan - Erik Lundquist beat Fausto Gardini, 6-0, 6-2, 6-1, and Ulf Schmidt defeated Nicola Pietrangeli, 6-1, 8-6, 6-3.

BOUCHEE SHIPPED BACK

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Ed Bouchee is still riding the Syracuse shuttle. The big first baseman, recalled by the New York Mets less than two weeks ago from their International League farm club, was returned to the Chiefs Sunday for the second time this season. In his place New York purchased infielder Richard Herscher from Syracuse.

YANKS OPTION PEPTONE

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees optioned outfielder-first baseman Joe Pepitone to Richmond of the International League today to make room for Tony Kubek, to be released this week from the Army. Pepitone played in 53 games for the Yanks, batting .244 and hitting five home runs.

Golfing

with ALEX MORRISON

Teacher of Champions

Sliding the sole of the clubhead smoothly on the turf helps to start the backswing properly.

COUNTLESS golfers start their backswings with the attitude of an old time parachuter jumping from a plane. Just before going into action they say: "Well, here goes!", leaving the rest to fate.

The chances of failure for the modern paratrooper have been minimized by greatly improved equipment and training. Likewise, club swingers enjoying consistent success use safeguards that help to keep the club moving properly.

An extremely simple guide about starting the backswing is moving the sole of the clubhead, wood or iron, smoothly along the turf. By giving the proper attention to this many common faults can be eliminated.

The pressure of club sole on the turf is a good reflection of your body balance, also the muscular action of your arms and hands. You need slide the club sole straight for only an inch or two on the turf for a better backswing.

Twin Wins Posted by Team In Alexander's Day Games

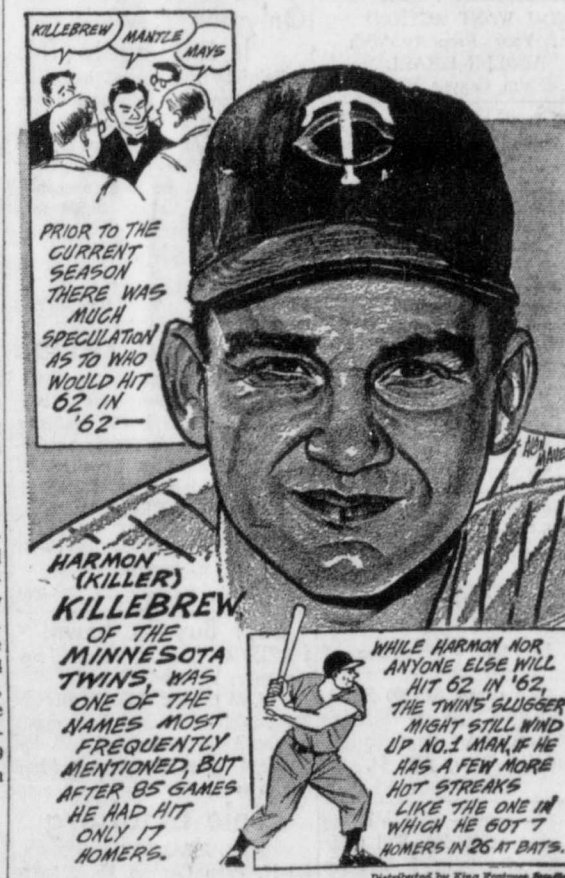

A fine Saturday night crowd of over 150 persons were on hand to pay tribute to Sam Alexander at the Polo Grounds, as his teammates teamed together to defeat the San Diego league winners in a twin bill, 10-9, 13-3.

The doubleheader night was arranged by the Boys' Club director, Ray Lockwood, to not only pay tribute to the youth who lost his life in saving a friend in the Salton Sea, but also to raise sufficient funds to erect a plaque in memory of the popular high school youth who gave his life in the rescue of the San Diego league winners in a twin bill, 10-9, 13-3.

According to Lockwood, a total of $66.78 has been raised through donations. A total of $42.78 was raised at the Saturday night twin bill and another $25 had been given prior to the games.
